HAMILTON CROWNE PLAZA

1001 14th Street NW

Designed by French-born architect Jules-Henri de Sibour, the Hamilton was completed in 1922. Blending elements of the Beaux Arts and Art Deco styles, the impressive façade and beautiful lines evoke classic European builds, but with a distinctly American presence. Just as stunning inside as it is out, the structure stands as an impressive testament to industrial age ingenuity.

Located right in the heart of Washington D.C., the Hamilton is just minutes from all the best our nation's capital has to offer. The Smithsonian, the White House, the National Mall and countless other cultural and historical monuments are within walking distance of our front door.

Dine at 14K which offers classic American cuisine with a contemporary flair. Dishes are prepared fresh by expert chefs using locally sourced ingredients, and served with pride in our casually which atmosphere. There is also an on-site Starbucks.
